DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response the applicants' amendment received on November 6, 2007.
2. Claims 1-40 are presented for examination.
3. The applicants have amended claims 1-14, 23, 24, 29, 30, and 35. The applicants have not cancelled or added any claims.
4. Applicants' arguments with respect to claims 1-40 have been considered but are deemed to be moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Remarks

5. In a telephone interview held with the applicants' representative, Hung Bui, the Examiner and the applicants representative tentatively agreed to a proposed amendment to independent claims 1, 9, 15, 23, 29, 30, and 31. During the interview, several claim amendments were discussed and the outstanding limitation of "reproducing engine" was found to be an allowable feature over the prior art of record. It was agreed that the applicants' reply to the consideration of the Examiner's proposed amendment would be considered. However, the applicants have not officially responded to the Examiner's suggestions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claims 1, 9, 15, 23, 29, 30, and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: "reproducing engine that reproduces".

Independent claims 1, 9, 15, and 29 contain claim limitations that include a reproducing engine that reproduces the AV contents and multimedia element(s). However, independent claims 23, 30, and 31 contain reproduced AV contents and multimedia element(s) but these independent claims do not comprise a reproducing engine that actually is responsible for reproducing AV contents and multimedia element(s).

The remaining claims are dependent claims and these claims are also rejected for being dependent on the above rejected independent claims.
